Intex Sri Lanka 2025 Set to Ignite the Textile & Apparel World – A Decade of Impact, Innovation & Industry Leadership

Colombo, Sri Lanka – The energy is rising, the industry is watching, and the countdown has officially begun. From 6–8 August 2025, Colombo will once again become the epicentre of South Asia's textile and apparel universe as Intex Sri Lanka returns with its most powerful edition yet. Celebrating a decade of innovation, trust, and transformation, the 17th edition of Intex Sri Lanka is more than an exhibition — it's a movement that has shaped the sourcing future of the region.

Since its debut in 2015, Intex Sri Lanka has been a game-changer — bridging Sri Lanka's world-renowned manufacturing strength with global textile producers and technology leaders. Over the years, the show has become a strategic sourcing calendar event for buyers and industry leaders from across South Asia, ASEAN, MENA, and Europe. From fibres to fashion, processing to packaging, Intex delivers the full textile value chain — and this year, it's taking it all a notch higher.

What makes Intex Sri Lanka 2025 a must-attend? It's the unmatched convergence of people, partnerships, and purpose. With participation from over 15 countries, including India, China, Pakistan, Korea, Taiwan, UK, USA, Indonesia, and Sri Lanka, the exhibition offers a powerful platform to connect, collaborate, and capitalize on regional supply capabilities. Buyers will get access to curated collections across fibres, yarns, woven and knitted fabrics, sustainable textiles, trims, and accessories, with a strong emphasis on certified and traceable sourcing.

"Intex Sri Lanka 2025 offers a unique opportunity for our apparel industry to connect with global suppliers, explore new innovations, and strengthen Sri Lanka's position as a leading sourcing destination."

— Yohan Lawrence, Secretary General, JAAF

A key vertical within the show, the 3rd edition of INMAC – Smart Technology and Innovation in Gar-tex Machinery — INMAC 2025 brings together next-gen gar-tex machinery from Germany, China, India, and Taiwan, each showcasing their manufacturing edge. From AI-powered inspection systems (Germany) and digital print/dyeing tech (China) to smart stitching solutions (India) and energy-efficient fabric finishers (Taiwan), the pavilion spotlights how intelligent upgrades are reshaping textile production for a smarter, greener future. As the official Sustainability Partner, Eurofins will bring global expertise in testing, compliance, and environmental certification to the show, helping manufacturers and brands implement sustainability with scientific integrity.

But Intex is not just about products — it's about people and progress. The Interactive Business Forum (IBF), in association with Moratuwa University Textile Association (MUTA), one of the region's most respected seminar platforms, returns with a powerful line-up of trendsetters, policymakers, and business architects. From conversations on Apparel 2030, bio-based fibres, circularity, and smart clothing, to critical sessions on talent development and sourcing strategies in a volatile global economy — IBF 2025 promises insight that will move minds and markets.

As Sri Lanka accelerates its momentum as an ethical and innovation-led sourcing destination, By strengthening linkages, supporting digitization, promoting sustainability, and building bridges between governments, businesses, and innovators, Intex Sri Lanka 2025 is not just an event — it's a catalyst for economic opportunity.

The future of sourcing & tech is being written in Colombo this August. Will you be there?

Intex Sri Lanka 2025 Marks a Decade of Textile Excellence – Connecting Global Industry at the Heart of South Asia

The 10th edition of Intex Sri Lanka 2025 concluded on a resounding high, celebrating a decade of connecting global textile and apparel stakeholders. Held from 6th to 8th August 2025 at BMICH, Colombo, the event reaffirmed Sri Lanka's position as South Asia's textile sourcing hub. The show featured over 400 booths and 210 exhibitors from 15+ countries, including India, Sri Lanka, South Korea, Pakistan, Indonesia, China, Japan, and the UK, and drew 6,944 trade visitors and buyers from more than 25 countries across South Asia, ASEAN, MENA, and Europe.

The grand opening ceremony was graced by Hon. Sunil Handunnetti, Minister of Industry & Entrepreneurship Development, and Hon. Chaturanga Abeysinghe, Deputy Minister, along with ambassadors from Korea and Indonesia, and senior representatives from India's High Commission and JAAF. With Eurofins as Sustainability Partner, Kasturi Cotton as Traceability Partner, and Super Dry and Oritain UK as Branding Partners, the show's focus on sustainability, innovation, and transparency took centre stage.

Strategic B2B meetings proved highly successful, including the Kasturi Cotton Bharat (KCB) Programme by TEXPROCIL, fostering co-branding and sustainable fiber sourcing between India and Sri Lanka, and a special Indonesia–Sri Lanka networking session organised by the Embassy of Indonesia, enhancing regional collaboration and trade.

The Interactive Business Forum (IBF) continued its legacy as a knowledge powerhouse, bringing together global experts from India, Sri Lanka, USA, and UK. Discussions on “Apparel 2030: Re-Stitching Fashion's Future” and “Trust Over Trends: Building Brands Consumers Trust” explored sustainability, traceability, and brand transparency, with insights from industry leaders like SUPIMA, Eurofins, and Brandix.

Co-located with Intex, InMac – Smart Technology & Innovation in Gar-Text Machinery showcased next-gen digital, AI, and sustainable manufacturing technologies from across the world. With 98% exhibitor satisfaction, InMac 2025 established itself as a growing platform for smarter, greener garment production.

The Fashion Fiesta 2025 Networking Reception at ITC Ratnadipa added a celebratory touch, honouring industry partners and associations that have supported Intex since its inception in 2015. The evening embodied Intex's spirit of creativity, collaboration, and community.

With remarkable participation, influential buyers such as PVH India (Tommy Hilfiger & CK), Victoria's Secret, Matalan, and Cotton Egypt Association, and meaningful partnerships forged on the show floor, Intex Sri Lanka 2025 reaffirmed its stature as South Asia's most impactful textile and apparel sourcing platform. The journey continues with Intex Sri Lanka 2026, scheduled for 5th–7th August 2026 at BMICH, Colombo.

Intex Sri Lanka 2025 Marks 10 Years of Innovation

Intex Sri Lanka 2025 officially opened its doors on 6 August 2025 at the BMICH, Colombo, marking the 10th edition of the region's leading international textile sourcing show. Celebrating a decade of collaboration, innovation, and sustainable development, the exhibition reflects South Asia's growing role in the global textile and apparel supply chain.

The opening ceremony brought together key industry stakeholders and diplomatic representatives. Distinguished guests included Salf Jafferjee, Chairman of the Joint Apparel Association Forum (JAAP), Mangala Wijesinghe, Chairman and CEO of the Sri Lanka Export Development Board (EDB), Saurabh Sabhlok, First Secretary (Economic & Commercial) at the High Commission of India, Dewi Gunina Tobing, Ambassador of Indonesia, and Myon Lee, Ambassador of the Republic of Korea.

"As we celebrate 10 years of Intex Sri Lanka, this milestone is not just a reflection of the show's growth—but the region's rising importance in global textile sourcing," said Arti Bhagat, Executive Director of Worldex India, organisers of the Intex Shows.

This year's edition is the largest and most international to date, welcoming major global brands and sourcing companies. Key partners include Eurofins as Sustainability Partner, and Kasturi Cotton, Superdry, and Oritain as Branding Partners—highlighting the show's continued commitment to sustainability, ethical trade, and product innovation.

Intex Sri Lanka has evolved over the past decade into a vital platform for industry networking, cross-border partnerships, and knowledge sharing, serving manufacturers, brands, designers, and buyers from across Asia and beyond.
